FASTENERS FOR ELECTRONICS

Gentlemen:

Since we have received so many requests for catalogs, we must limit mailings to PURCHASING and DESIGN personnel of O.E.M. establishments and such research and development areas that can assure us of a reasonable amount of business to justify so costly a catalog as our most recent issue.

We find from experience that many catalog requests come as a result of curiosity stimulated by attendance at a trade convention or from the many advertising media used today in the Electronic and Instrument industries.

Surely you can understand our reluctance to mail catalogs without a more discriminating effort to determine the end result of your request.

We therefore respectfully request information on the products you manufacture or development work in which you are engaged to complete our records. Please return this letter in the self-addressed envelope.
